Armed man surrenders to FBI at airport

EL PASO, Texas (UPI)—An 18-year-old man armed with a knife and demanding to be flown to Iran hijacked an American Airlines 727 following Saturday and held the flight crew and male passengers hostage for more than 10 hours before surrendering to FBI agents.

Police identified the hijacker as Gerald James Hill, 18, of Chester, Mass. He was taken to the federal court for arraignment on Hijacking charges.

The plane, Flight 286, was commandeered after it landed in El Paso at an airport near San Antonio, Texas. in Los Angeles.

"He told the passengers and crew, when we were pulled off the aircraft to go to Iran," Passenger Dorothy Douglas of El Paso told the FBI.

"I have a weapon, and you're going to get me off the plane. I can do you a favor or I can cut your throat. I have enough to kill all of you."

"I want to go to Iran." After an accident, a person has two options: to sue or to settle. The county sheriff's department

Price Increase

To Our Readers:

Effective Friday, November 9th, the price for home delivery of the Southwest Times will increase to $1.10 per week. This price increase is necessary due to the rapidly escalating cost of newspaper, gasoline and other production supplies.

Carr and dealers will receive one-third of the increase.

One local school principal said teachers and school personnel have to make child abuse referrals "all too often." She said there is no way to prevent a case of child abuse.

The actual principal explained why all reports are required to incident of child abuse.

Both incidents of neglect and abuse are required by schools although the principal explained "evidence is much harder to spot than abuse." In some instances teachers may not suspect marks on a child's body or bruises because of a report. In a person of potential abuse and neglect cases though, the school may record some information that is not turned over to social service agencies. "We see Abuse, Page A9..."
Pulaski County falls in rematch, 14-7

Pulaski County fans were dealt a bitter blow Friday night as the Cougars fell in a hard-fought, evenly matched contest with the two-time defending state champions, the Patrick Henry Patriots. The score was 14-7, with the Cougars losing for the second time to the Patriots this season.

Patrick Henry claimed a spot in the AAA Northwest Region finals by defeating the Cougars for the second time in a row. The match-up was held at Victory Stadium and a win would put Pulaski County here at Victory Stadium and a win would put them in the state championship game. The decision the Northern Region championship.

For the Cougars, the "Miracle on Slaughterhouse Road" has ended. The Cougars led at the half, just as they had in the first encounter, 1-0, but again a strong Patriot defense and some key special teams mistakes spelled doom this time. The Cougars made big plays in both halves, but after intermission those big plays were followed by two unanswered Patriot touchdowns.

The Patriots defense was dominant once again, but it was the Cougars who came out on top at the half, 11-0. The score the establishment a real offensive thrust in the fourth quarter. The Cougars made big plays in both halves, but after intermission those big plays were followed by two unanswered Patriot touchdowns. The Patriot defense was dominant once again, but it was the Cougars who came out on top at the half, 11-0.

The Cougars had gone down to defeat for the second time this season, but the Cougars had nothing to be ashamed of. They had made it all the way to the finals of the AAA State playoffs. Few AAA teams in the Old Dominion can match that feat of impressive victories.

The defeat was a bitter disappointment for the Patrick Henry team and Coach Joel Hicks and his boys. They had come together as a team, but it didn't work out this time.
